TEACHING ACTIVITIES

2021: Nomination for the Teaching Excellence Award in the category «Modern Scholarship», University of Basel

2023: Nomination for the Teaching Excellence Awards in the category «Strong foundations », University of Basel

Around 70 thematically different graduate and undergraduate courses taught on the social, cultural, economic, and religious history of the Greek and Roman Worlds:

- at University of Basel, Switzerland as Professor of Ancient History, 2014 – present
- at the Department of Religion, Princeton University, NJ, USA as Visiting Professor from 01/2018 - 06/2018
- at the Central European University (CEU) in Budapest, Hungary as Visiting Professor in summer 2015
- at Freie Universität Berlin, Germany as Adjunct Professor from 2011 – 2014
- at Columbia University, New York, USA as Adjunct Assistant Professor from 2006 – 2009
- at Friedrich-Schiller Universität Jena in 2003/4

Supervision of Doctoral and Master's Theses

First supervisor of eleven ongoing or completed PhD dissertations and more than ten MA theses in Ancient History, Papyrology, Archaeology, and Environmental History. Topics range from fiscal policy, politics, and social control in Byzantine and Roman Egypt to urban biographies, medical history, cult practices, visual culture, climate change, and pandemics. These projects exemplify my commitment to interdisciplinary training across history, archaeology, philology, and the natural sciences, and several of my former students have gone on to secure prestigious fellowships and faculty positions at leading international universities.
